

Timshel
(Thou mayest)

1. Shut world

Verse

Once how did I chase the light,
Once how did I fly,
How did I try to try

Bridge

All came alive, long time ago,
Then torn apart, no chance to grow,
No more to know

Verse

Once how could I see,
How could I be to be

Bridge

Longing the real, hiding the fear
Seamless today, no need to pray,
No more to say

Ref

Whatever ever you do, no matter what you have done
Will never ever be good, no matter if you're the one
No matter if it's a game, we shouldn't let it again
Feels like you're losing the flame – there is no-one to blame

Whatever ever you do, you wanna do it again,
Will never ever be good, you've got to give it a name
Whenever shouting a call, making no sense at all
You think you're breaking a wall, it's not the final score

Ref

Whatever you've got to do, no matter what you've done
Will never make you good, if you're the only one
Don't worry it's not a bad game, you've got to give the name,
Get ready to be again

*(Whatever ever you do, no matter what you have done
Will never ever be good, no matter if you're the one
Don't worry if it's a game, we've got to give it a name
Get ready to be again)*

Verse

Words unspoken, loves not frozen (unspoken loves)
Hearts will close forever and die
Heart are frozen (frozen and still), still not broken
(Waiting to tear) tear each lonely moment apart

Bridge

Stand by the tide, come chase the light
Forbidden words, unshut the world
Unshut the world

II. Fading Tomorrow

Verse

It's all around but you've never seen
No one else you have ever been
The gate is open to anyone
The step inside is a never-done

Many questions passed you by
Find an answer you can but try
Every day is a cautious lie
Always longing to reach a new tomorrow
Any tomorrow
One more tomorrow
Fading tomorrow

Getting ready to emulate
Useless hope, it is rather fate
The coin is up and you have to see
Which way it lands, where you gonna be

Your soul is easy lightening
Your flesh is unseen tiny thing
Every day is a cautious lie
Always longing to reach a new tomorrow
Any tomorrow
One more tomorrow
Fading tomorrow
And I know it's now

Bridge

Every now eats the time, so just run, run away
Every pain comes alive, so just run, run away
Every god lets you die, so just run, run away
Every tale starts to lie, so just run, run away

Every now eats the time, so just run, run away
Every pain comes alive, so just run, run away
Every god lets you die, so just run, run away
Every tale starts to lie, so just run, run away
Forget the brave new world

III. The Change

I. The Gate Opener

...

Dream or a memory – pride or regret
Half of the life instead?

There is the way, why can't you see
A gate to be opened free

Only a game, harmless to play
A step on the long wrong way

Dream or a memory – pride or regret
Half of the life, step in the light
Of a million gathering star

II. Guards of the World

Ver

Embrace the world, idle fields, abandoned land
Lonely the man, small and weak, too lost to demand

Dive in the ground, feel its soul, feel its dirt
Gather the will to meet the Guards of the World

Ref

World of the unseen old mighty ego,
And the scream by the will of the age
No-one to know when we fail in the journey
To open and enter the door

Vocal

(World of the unseen, scream of the age
No one to know when we fail, when we fail)

Ver

Secretive world flows away, fills the spell
Past days to come, future ones all need to melt

Forbidden forms come alive, given birth
Gather the will to meet the Guards of the World

Ref

World of the unseen old mighty ego,
And the scream by the will of the age
No-one to know when we fail in the journey
To open and enter the world
World of the unseen old mighty ego,
And the scream by the will of the age
No-one to know when we fail in the journey
To open and enter the door

Vocal

(World of the unseen, scream of the age
You have to know when to leave, leave the world
World of the unseen, scream of the age
No one to know when we fail, when we fail)

In this world of the unseen old mighty ego,
And the scream by the will of the age
No-one to know when we fail in the journey
To open and enter the world
World of the unseen old mighty ego,
And the scream by the will of the age
No-one to know when we fail in the journey
To open and enter the door to the End and the Start

Vocal

(In this world of the unseen, scream of the age
You have to know when to leave, leave the world
World of the unseen, scream of the age
No one to know when we fail, to the End, to the Start)

III. War of Lonely Lives

*What it feels, what it's like, what it is, what it brings, what it shows, what is life, what a lie
Feeling it, most of all*

Verse

Why this enchantment will surely die
And dissolving to blood I must be
The existence of heart if you feel
You're the one from above us to see
And the night shows the light, and the light shows you more,
And then everything gathers to one
Go for the One

This daylight will surely die
And a new set of minds starts to grow
And the night shows the light, and you learn you're the One,
But you know life must be something more
There must be more

Ref

First one to come and the last one to go
One for the younger and one for the old
Be the one and the only to trust and believe for everyone

First time to halt is the last time to flow
Take all your moments to make this world grow
Take all your dreams to end this War of Lonely Lives

Vocal

(Be the first one, be the last one,
Be the one for everyone
Take the first time, take the last time
End this War of Lonely Lives)

Bridge

And the spirit survives
And the unspoken longs to fly
And tomorrow lives, and yesterdays die

ref

Be the new Master and brighten the age
Spread the new teachings and clear up the stage
Be of the greatest, most magnified light for everyone

First chance to show is the last chance to hide
Take all your moments to wind up the tide
Take all your dreams to end this War of Lonely Lives

Vocal

(Be the Master, become Wiser
Be the light for everyone
Take the first chance, take the last chance
End this War of Lonely Lives)

IV. The Plague

What it feels, what it's like, what it is...

What a world of the unknown
Is it you inside –
Is it you to decide
If to be lost or survive

V. The Lost Ones (instrumental)

VI. Survivors (instrumental)

IV. You and I

Verse

Hey, everyone here look well around
Find the last patch of soil within the bound
Welcome the world, this orphan child's lost, hidden hope

Now let me recite the words of the will Let me climb once more your glorious hill
Open the doors and let me –

Verse2

Wake up the sleeping old world, take the dream to an intended end
Reach in to me to you, get lost in tears
Stand by the wake of the world, fates and futures are almost defined,
Break through the wall today, through your fears

Ref

Passing the days, in search of the One
Touching the realms of the nature begun
Arriving in hope, this maiden land
Just You and I

Verse2

Warm up this frosty cold age, let the dawn release her cage
Order this very day for a new morning
Seek out the edgeless shape, hear the song of this spherely theme
Learn how to play in your dream

Ref

Future unseen, past torn apart
Awaken by present come out of the dark
Magnetic light, delicious charm
Waiting on us

Passing the days, in search of the One
Touching the realms of the nature begun
Arriving in hope, a maiden land
Just You and I

Verse

Now if you stay here, look well around
Find a new patch of soil out of the bound
Welcome the world – just You and I